

To the FCC:

It is my understanding that there are efforts underway to limit the delivery of local programming by satellite radio providers. As a consumer, I pay a monthly fee to XM radio because I value the services offered. This includes delivery of weather and traffic reports for my local area. My payment for such services is a direct signal that I value such services and, thus, I strongly urge the FCC to reject NAB's petition 04-160.

Respectfully yours,

Ryan Sullivan
